Teaching and Administration

At Essex I have taught a variety of courses

Financial Reporting (2nd year)

Financial Reporting (3rd year)

Auditing (3rd year)

Professionalism and Accounting Profession (BA/MA/MSc)

Financial Reporting (MA/MSc)

Auditing (MA/MSc)

Business Ethics and Accountability (MA/MSc)

Research Methodologies (MA/MSc)

State Profession Relationship (MA/MSc)

I have also supervised a number of MA/MSc and PhD dissertations.

Since joining the University of Essex, I have played my part in ensuring that course material and content of my subjects is up to date and relevant to changing business and social needs. This has helped to secure continuing internal/external approval for undergraduate and postgraduate courses. In addition, from time to time I have assumed responsibility for a variety of course administration tasks, library and related matters. For 1996 to 1997, I was Director of Doctoral Programmes and Director of Research for 1997 to 2000.

For 2000-2003, I was the Head of Department. During this period, the department secured a rating of 5 in the 2001 Research Assessment Exercise (RAE). In May 2003, it secured the "satisfactory" (highest possible) rating for the quality of its teaching. During this period, the department increased its student numbers from 379 to 799 FTEs and the number of academic staffing positions increased from 14 to 37. The number of undergraduate degrees increased from 8 to 13 and the number of graduate degrees increased from 4 to 8. In 2000, the department had a negative financial position, but by 2003 it had a surplus of at least £375,000. From 2005 to 2009, I was Head of the Accounting Group within the newly constituted Essex Business School.
